

The figure displays four scatter plots arranged horizontally, each showing the distribution of points for four groups: g (purple), r (blue), i (green), and z (orange). The points are colored according to the legend in the top right corner. The plots show varying degrees of overlap and separation between the groups across the four conditions.

